Letter from the Executive Director

Dear Supporters...Through floods and record animal intakes in 2019, the shelter has continued to grow in its service to Washington County.

Not only does the WCSPCA provide a safe place for abandoned or lost animals, we also keep our community safe by taking animals off the streets and preventing the spread of diseases by vaccinating all animals in our custody.

A well-functioning animal shelter is key to making a community of our size a safer and more pleasant place to live, and we could not do it without you. As Executive Director, I work with the board of directors, staff and volunteers to ensure that our shelter remains an integral part of Washington County for many years to come.

I am so grateful for and humbled by the support we receive from our community. Without the generosity of supporters like you, we wouldn't be able to provide lifesaving care to the thousands of animals we served last year, and the thousands who will need us this year, too.

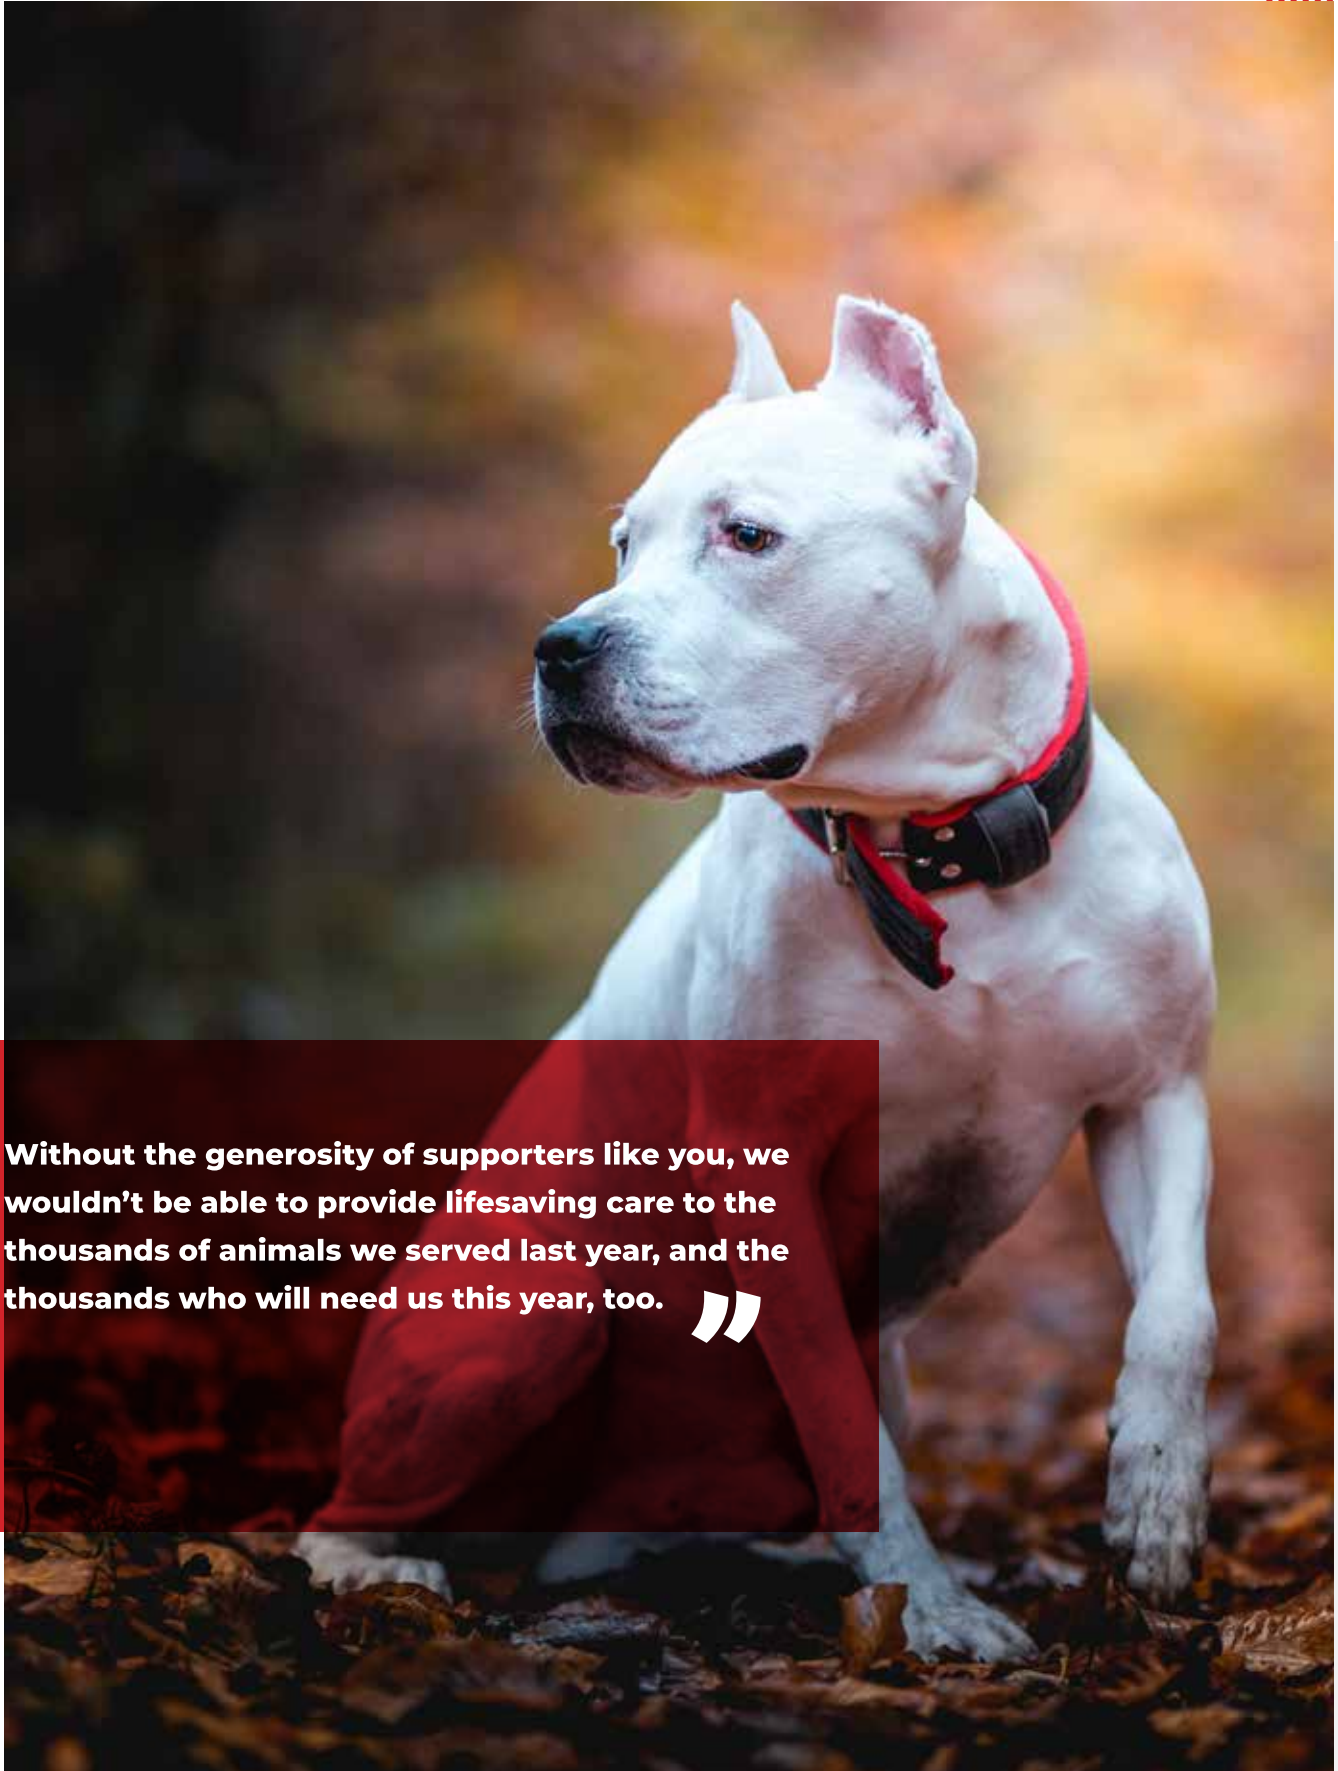

Together, we are mending bones, healing hearts, finding homes, and reuniting lost pets with their owners. Thank you for joining Washington County SPCA in our efforts to create a community where all dogs and cats have a safe and loving home.

Tonya Pete

Best,
Tonya Pete

Who We Are

Our Mission

Our Mission is to serve the donors, volunteers, advocates, citizens and animals of our local communities by:

- Actively promoting suitable animal adoptions and transports; and
- Collaborating with other animal assistance groups.

Our Vision

We work to create a community where all dogs and cats have a safe and loving home.

Our History

Washington County SPCA (WCSPCA) has been serving Bartlesville and surrounding towns within Washington County for over 50 years. We are comprised of two operations: The City of Bartlesville pound facility and the WCSPCA adoption facility. The adoption facility and all the community service programs associated with our organizations are funded solely by grants and public donations. We are not supported by any state or federal contributions.
